

Published based on Your Wedding Can Be A One Of A Kind Event With Just A Few Unique Touches

Your Wedding Can Be A One Of A Kind Event With Just A Few Unique Touches

If you are busy planning your wedding, you may be feeling overwhelmed with all of your options. There are numerous things you can do for your wedding, not to mention hundreds of little touches you can add to make things truly unique. If you are looking for idea for having a one of a kind experience and add drama, you have plenty of choices. Things may still be charming and unique, but you can add a few things that will really stand out. Consider how you can add pizzazz to your entrance to and from the ceremony an exciting event. Take a Floatplane charter as you enter the ceremony and leave by boarding a Floatplane to Tofino with your new spouse. This is dramatic and a part of the day everyone attending will remember for a long time to come.

Other options for entering your ceremony in dramatic fashion include a horsedrawn carriage, horseback, or by way of military vehicle. Two of these choices offer romance, and the other is fun and unexpected. You can also use a variety of methods for leaving your ceremony including boat, if you are marrying near the water, a bicycle built for two people, or by way of hayride for those rustic farm weddings. Each of these options is fun and can be suited to your particular venue.

Another dramatic addition to a wedding is to create a ceremony that is similar to a performance. Instead of exchanging vows in the usual manner, do so in a dramatic, Hollywood-like fashion. Include stage lighting, sound systems, music, and create a feeling of a performance instead of just a wedding.

If you are looking to add drama to the reception instead of the ceremony, you have a ton of choices. You can hire a performer to attend the reception and entertain guests either before or after they dine. Imagine the fun kids and adults would have watching a magician or belly dancer while awaiting the exciting arrival of the bride and groom. Other performance options, include celebrity impersonators, singer-songwriters that create a special song just for your event, or a dramatic reading of a romantic piece of literature or poetry. Some brides prefer to keep the attention on themselves during their wedding reception, but others love the idea of keeping guests entertained while they are busy with other things. If you and your sweetie have a photo session scheduled for just after your ceremony, these entertainers help get the party going before you arrive.

If you are trying to plan the wedding of your dreams, you may think like there is too much to do. To get a grip on things, decide where you would like to add drama and be willing to splurge on just a few aspects of the big day.

You can also find this article published on Your Wedding Can Be A One Of A Kind Event With Just A Few Unique Touches, and on the tag pages belly dancer, dramatic addition, exchanging vows, idea, reception, Wedding.